

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An automated cafeteria. Customers place orders via computers, over the Internet. Their orders are prepared by the cafeteria, and placed into a delivery bay. Each customer retrieves his own order from the bay, and carries it to a payment station. Security measures discourage theft.